Additional notes

Kush — Scott Tomsu, founder of ADC (Advantage Design & Construction) in Lafayette, Louisiana. We're building AI factories on Henry Hub natural gas at $0.027/kWh — 40 miles from the cheapest gas in America.

Our problem is yours to solve: Louisiana banks don't understand GPU assets. There's no commodity benchmark, no depreciation framework, no way to finance hardware they can't value. OCPI and RVS change that.

We want to be an early compute provider on your exchange and explore RVS for our first NVL72 rack procurement. We also built a 27-tool AI agent (ROXY) running on self-hosted GPU — call her at (337) 486-3149 to see the software layer live.

Looking forward to the conversation. adc3k.com/investor-pitch
